QUESTIONS WITH EXPERTISE

Durga Prasad Poudel
Chief Technology Officer
NITV NEPAL LIMITED

Could you please shed light on IPTV/OTT Platform basics ideas?

Both IPTV and OTT, are about delivering Audio, Video contents, and interactive TV services using the IP network. Main difference is that IPTV delivers content in the managed network, fully controlled by the operator, while OTT is designed for content delivery over the public Internet. Sometimes, the term OTT is used also in cases where Audio, Video, TV service is offered on the mobile apps, web or PC devices while the term IPTV is used where services are offered on Set-Top Box devices connected in the operator's managed network.

How does NITV Offer IPTV/OTT Solutions to customers?

NITV provides advanced audio, video streaming solutions based on our outstanding engineer team and world-wide experience for many different customers. Our team diagnose the needs for each customer and provides a suitable solution that include encoding/transcoding, audio/video compression, distribution, storage, decoding, content management, DRM and more across multiple screens like Android, IOS Mobile, iPad, Web, STB, Android TV, Roku, LG, Apple TV etc.

NITV offers one stop solutions for IPTV/OTT
operators to provide reliable and high quality live and on demand streaming media service to their end user.

What are the main focuses of NITV in 2022?

We're constantly working to innovate and build new features for our users to deliver a fantastic experience to them. To achieve these goals, we need to continue building out our team. To support OTT/IPTV as well as our other Fintech and Enterprise software's rapid growth, increase development velocity, and ship more new features to our users, we're hiring heavily across our engineering and product organization, from architecture and device platforms to QA and product. The goal is to expand our team while maintaining our culture, and we're focused on hiring people that have the right expertise and can work collaboratively with our teams. We're investing heavily in talent and employee engagement and have programs that support continued learning and development for all employees.
